

SaaS – an unintended casualty of the copyright

This interruption in the schedule is brought to you by:

Digital Economy Bill

aka

Analogue Content Distribution Cartel (ACDC) Protection Bill

specifically amendment 120 – ISPs blocking web sites hosting copyright infringing content

This is not a party political issue

Sadly the three main UK parties seem to be tripping over each other to make this whole thing worse

Too big to fail

!=

Too big to be taken down

What happens if...

etc.

and there's worse to come...

Anti Counterfeiting
Trade Agreement

You can..

Write to your MP about the Digital Economy Bill
(and ACTA)

<http://www.theyworkforyou.com/>

<http://www.writetothem.com/>

Write to your MEPs about ACTA

<http://www.writetothem.com/>

Join the Open Rights Group

<http://www.openrightsgroup.org/>

Get involved with Coadec
(The Coalition For A Digital Economy)

<http://www.coadec.com/>

WriteToThem mysociety.org

Thanks for listening

If you're desperate to find out about the Potemkin PaaS stuff then take a look at my blog post at <http://wp.me/palij-30>